

Jewellery / Wed, 21st February 2018 / Lot 551

LOT 551

A Victorian black enamelled mourning brooch, glazed with an oval hair locket compartment to the centre, width 4.2cm, a Victorian oval banded agate brooch and a Victorian expanding bracelet with an oval carved jet panel to the front, between composition bar link sides.

Estimate: £60 - £90

---

Condition Report

551. Black enamelled brooch: black enamel in good condition, small chip at end of glass to centre, small piece of wire wound around hinge of pin, dent at back of pin, no inscription to the back, one or two small edge knocks. Agate brooch: gilding to mount is largely rubbed off, hook to clasp is replaced, internal natural flaw to the agate. Bracelet: a few chips to the edge of the oval jet panel, engraved registration mark to the back of the jet panel, otherwise fair condition.

Created: Thu, 15th February 2018 11:39