

Single-Owner Collections / Thu, 29th November 2018 / Lot 4216

LOT 4216

A Continental glass jar, cover and stand with plated mounts, early 19th century, with relief diamond and facet cut decoration, the mounts with repeating anthemion design, overall height 20.5cm, together with two other cut glass sweetmeat jars and covers, a small French opaline glass jug with red trailed rim, height 5.8cm, and four other pieces of glassware (some faults).

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

4216. Jar, cover and stand with plated mounts - each piece in good condition.

Smaller sweetmeat - minor chip/bruise to strawberry diamond band of main body, otherwise in good condition.

Larger sweetmeat - 2 very minor unsprung chips to inner rim edge of cover, otherwise in good condition.

Opaline jug - in good condition.

Blue and gilt base section - large chip and smaller nick to base edge, drilled hole to top, gilding quite worn in places.

Amethyst flashed vase - in good condition.

Pair white overlay bowls - first with approx one quarter section of bowl broken away with signs of old glued repair to edge of each piece, losses along the break line and numerous small chips to the rim. Second with numerous small chips to the rim edge, a small flaw to the edge of the foot and manufacturing 'creases' to the stem.

Created: Sat, 3rd November 2018 13:20