

Clocks and Barometers / Thursday, 21st March 2019 / Lot 1166

LOT 1166

A late 19th century French gilt spelter and porcelain mantel clock with eight day movement striking on a bell via an outside countwheel, the porcelain circular dial with black Roman numerals and floral wreath on a blue ground, the case with putto and shell surmount above further inset porcelain panels with beaded and foliate borders, height 35cm, with pendulum and giltwood stand, together with a pair of gilt spelter urns and covers with white marble circular bases, height 33.5cm.

Estimate: £80 - £120

---

Condition Report

1166. Clock - generally good condition, but metalwork is a bit dusty and dirty and surmount is a little loose. Small tear/split to spelter on front base panel. Porcelain panels in good order.
Urns - one with small repair to stem and repainted in gilt.

Created: Wed, 20th March 2019 11:34