LOT 1149

A Chinese famille rose export porcelain plate, Yongzheng period, painted with a cockerel beneath a blossoming and fruiting pomegranate branch, the black ruyi and lappet outlined rim filled with peonies and chrysanthemums on pink and iron red whorl grounds, diameter 22.6cm (minor rim chips), together with a similar famille rose export porcelain plate, Yongzheng period, painted with flowers, diameter 23cm (hairline to rim).

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

1149. Cockerel plate - extensive small chips/nicks to underside rim edge. Very minor wear to enamels. The black ruyi outline is original but not well executed and sits quite proud with a pitted finish.

Floral plate - 4.5cm haircrack to rim at 10 o'clock. Some minor fritted staking wear to edge of cavetto and typical light surface wear overall.
