

Jewellery / Wednesday, 30th June 2021 / Lot 637

LOT 637

A gold, seed pearl, ruby and diamond heart shaped pendant, the central circular cut diamond within a surround of six circular cut rubies, otherwise set with seed pearls, with a crown surmount, further set with rubies and seed pearls, detailed '14K', weight 7.1g, length 3.5cm.

Estimate: £120 - £180

Condition Report

637. The diamond looks to be a clear white stone. The rubies are of medium colour saturation. One of the rubies to the centre has surface reaching inclusions to one side. One of the rubies to the crown surmount has a surface reaching inclusion. A few of the seed pearls are beginning to peel. The seed pearls to the crown are generally rather dirty. The pendant would benefit from careful professional cleaning. It is also marked 'B.G'. The pendant attachment to the top of the back of the crown is a later gilt metal replacement, with evidence of lead solder securing this attachment. The pendant is a later 20th century interpretation of a late Victorian design.

Created: Thu, 24th June 2021 10:52