

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 26th October 2023 / Lot 1518

LOT 1518

A Bow porcelain figure of Falstaff, circa 1765, modelled standing holding a sword and shield, on a floral encrusted and gilt enriched scroll moulded base, red painted anchor and dagger mark to top of base, height 20cm (restored).

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

The figure has quite extensive professional restoration overall, including the shield, legs and boots, scabbard, neck, hat, corners of frock coat, nose, chin and sword pommel.

The base has a large manufacturers firing crack to it which has been decorated over to the underside during manufacture.

Please see the close up images on our website using the zoom function.

Created: Tue, 24th October 2023 13:12