Condition Report

The owl balances on the tree stump base, so the sculpture is in two pieces. The owl is not marked, only the stump base is marked. An image of the mark can be seen in the second image on our website. The lot is not accompanied by any paperwork or original packaging. There are the remains of an original Zanetti glued paper label to the underside of the stump.

Both the owl and stump are in good condition overall with no damage or repairs.
