LOT 1047

A Sino-Tibetan gilt bronze figure of a bodhisattva, possibly Amitabha, 18th century, finely modelled seated on the back of a goose or duck, the oval base cast with rocky surround, height 13.7cm. Provenance: the Alain Presencer Collection. Note: Amitabha is the principal Buddha of Pure Land Buddhism. In Vajrayana Buddhism Amitabha is known for his longevity, discernment and pure perception.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

1047. The figure is in generally good condition, but does have some pale blue/green verdegriis-type build-up across the face and body of the figure. Otherwise no significant damage or repairs. Typical light surface scratches and wear to gilt, more pronounced on high points. Casting and decoration good and crisp. Blue pigmentation visible to hair.

Weight 487g.
