LOT 2131

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

2131. While some elements, including the three carved panels appear to be 16th century, other parts appear to be later and possibly constructed at a later date. The candle box is missing apart from some of the base panel.
