

British and Continental Ceramics / Thursday, 1st May 2025 / Lot 1445

LOT 1445

A Wedgwood commemorative mug designed by Eric Ravilious, circa 1937, commemorating the Coronation of King Edward VIII, printed in black with the date and 'ER' monogram flanking the Royal Coat of Arms, against a pale blue ground, beneath fireworks detailed with yellow highlights, black printed and impressed factory marks to base, height 10.3cm.

Estimate: £400 - £600

Condition Report

In good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

There are a couple of teeny tiny insignificant scratches to the blue ground, only noticeable on closer inspection.

Created: Wed, 23rd April 2025 09:27