LOT 2330

An early 20th century Maori carved hardwood tewhatewha long-handled club, the long shaft with pointed end and projecting bladed terminal, finely carved with scrolls, length 138cm.

Estimate: £200 - £400

Condition Report

2330. Some minor scuffs and surface marks, but generally good condition. The head has a pierced hole presumably for hanging. The blade has quite a deep and dark patina, but the shaft is less patinated overall.

Provenance: Entered by a local charity, who quite regularly have rather nice things donated to them to sell, but no further details are know.
