

Single-Owner Collections / Thursday, 26th June 2025 / Lot 1089

LOT 1089

A Tibetan damaru drum, 20th century, the double-sided stained wooden drum with stretched leather covers, the central band applied with cowrie shells and hung with a silk brocade banner and tassels, drum diameter 23.1cm, with silk embroidered case. Provenance: the Alain Presencer Collection.

Estimate: £60 - £100

Condition Report

Generally in good condition with no significant damage. Typical wear.
Fits well in its silk work case, which has typical wear and some discolouration.

Created: Thu, 19th June 2025 11:47