

Asian and Islamic Ceramics and Works of Art / Thursday, 26th June 2025 / Lot 1190

LOT 1190

A rare Chinese amber-glazed marbled clay (jiao tai) pottery small circular tripod dish, Tang dynasty (AD 618-907), the shallow body with single loop handle to underside of rim and supported on three conical feet, covered in a cream and reddish brown glaze of dark and light irregular swirling stripes, diameter 9.9cm, height 2cm. Note: marbling or jiao tai (mixed body) was a popular decoration technique on ceramics developed in the Tang dynasty, when marbled wares were produced particularly in the kilns of Gongxian, Henan Province.

Estimate: £3,000 - £4,000

---

Condition Report

1190. Good condition commensurate with age. All-over light crazing, typical light surface scratches and wear. No cracks, chips or restoration. Good vibrant marbling and colour.

Created: Wed, 25th June 2025 13:32