LOT 4053

An 18th century and later Middle Eastern flintlock pistol with steel barrel, barrel length 31.5cm, and brass embellished body with foliate decoration (overall lacking components, old repairs and restoration).

Estimate: £70 - £100

Condition Report

4053. Generally this gun has had considerable amounts of repair and quite probably alterations. Probably a locally produced piece and difficult to know the full extent.

Splits to the brass work, some losses throughout to decoration, some active rust to barrel, loss of ram-rod, mechanism functions and fires, but quite naive in fitting and working.
