LOT 2629

An Edwardian brass stickstand, height 59cm, width 33cm, together with a collection of various walking sticks, including a carved oak parrot head walking stick, length 108cm, and an African knobkerrie.

Estimate: £80 - £120

Condition Report

2629. Condition throughout is ok with just minor wear and scuffs.

The crocodile handle has been broken and re-glued and the plain oak-shafted stick has had the shaft repaired. The parrot headed stick that has the aluminium shaft within it is actually part of a spitfire, and is not a swordstick.

The shooting stick operates correctly and locks into place. The metalwork is a little rusty and the shaft has some minor scuffs and a few thin cracks.
