

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 11th December 2025 / Lot 1424

LOT 1424

A Flight, Barr & Barr Worcester cabinet cup and matched saucer, early 19th century, painted with a rectangular panel depicting Cupid seated in a landscape setting loading his quiver with arrows, flanked by gilt foliate scrollwork between white beaded borders, the gilt handle modelled as an eagle and another bird's head, raised on gilt paw feet, black painted inscribed mark to base, height 7.4cm (rim restored), the matched saucer with similar gilt detail and beaded bands, unmarked, diameter 13.3cm, together with a two-handled chocolate cup and saucer, painted in a sepia bronze and gilt with classical figures and putti between gilt banding, diameter of saucer 14.4cm, unmarked (minor faults).

Provenance: The Flight Collection.

Estimate: £120 - £180

Condition Report

Cabinet cup - approx one half section of flared neck rim professionally restored, otherwise in good condition.
Matched saucer - in good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration, some light scratches to well where cup sits.

Two-handled chocolate cup - 3 vertical haircracks to cup, longest approx 3cm, some losses to gilding.
Saucer with chocolate cup - 3cm haircrack to rim, small starcrack to centre of base, crazed and with filled/restored hole to well - probably matched to cup.

Created: Thu, 4th December 2025 14:53