Estimate: £100 - £200

Condition Report

1209. Generally good cosmetic condition. Case with typical light surface scratches, wear and scuffs, but no significant damage.

Trunk door slightly warped and no lock to door and therefore no case key.

Dial a little dirty, but otherwise ok, missing seconds hand.

We have a winder which winds the movement smoothly, but the wires are in a bit of a tangle so the clock is not currently running. The movement is a bit dirty and dusty and would probably require a service to return to working order.
