LOT 2310

A Red Ashay satin glass car mascot, moulded in the form of a lady and lion, mounted to its illuminated base with radiator cap terminal, total height 23cm. Note: Red Ashay mascots were made for H.G. Ascher Ltd of Manchester and London, by the Reidel Glass Works in Czechoslovakia. H.G. Ascher first marketed these mascots as 'Red Ashay' in 1930 and they were finally taken off the market in 1952, when H.G. Ascher closed.

Estimate: £300 - £500

Condition Report

2310. The glass appears to be in good condition with no chips or cracks. However it has been cemented into its base, so the base is uninspected.
