LOT 1011

A Chinese carved rock crystal vase and cover, late Qing dynasty, the flattened body carved in low relief with pine branches above high relief lingzhi fungus, all below a pair of angular handles, incised keyfret rim and cover, height 11.2cm (missing finial and other inclusions and faults).

Estimate: £200 - £300

Condition Report

1011. Finial to lid broken and missing. Minor chips to rim of lid and hairline inclusion to rim of lid. There is a hairline inclusion to the neck of the vase, this is largely hidden by the carved pine branch. Minor chips to rim. Minor nicks to handles. Horizontal hairline inclusion to the body and some other smaller line inclusions just above this. Some small chips to pierced branches at side of the vase. Some visible russet coloured inclusions around the base and lower branches.
