LOT 1479

Three Mintons tiles in the style of Christopher Dresser, late 19th century, printed in shades of blue and white Japonaiserie style with a crane flying over prunus above a Greek key band, moulded marks to undersides, each framed, two 23cm square, one 23cm by 17.5cm (faults), together with a Minton Hollins & Co. tile in the style of Dresser, printed in ochre, terracotta and black with an anthemion motif between banded detail, framed, 22cm square.

Estimate: £50 - £80

Condition Report

Each of the blue tiles has light surface scratches and crazing.

First blue tile - cut down and with two small chips to upper surface edge visible beneath frame edges.

Second blue tile - two very small chips just about visible to two upper glazed corners beneath frame and a few minor glaze blemishes.

Third blue tile - missing part of one corner.

Other tile - hardly any crazing and a few surface scuffs but otherwise looks ok, not removed from the frame so the edges are not entirely visible.
