LOT 1629

A Hadley's Worcester jardinière, 1900-02, shape No. 252, of bulbous shape with pierced trellis sections to the rim, raised on four foliate moulded scroll feet, painted with two panels depicting storks alternating with two panels painted with yellow iris, within moulded borders, green printed, red painted and incised marks to base, height 15.5cm (minor restoration to rim). Note: this particular piece is illustrated by Peter Woodger, 'James Hadley & Sons Artist Potters Worcester', p.137.

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

There is a professionally restored vertical crack to the rim of the bowl just above and through one of the pierced trellis panels, approx 4cm long, hardly noticeable apart from under close inspection with a strong light. Otherwise in good condition overall. No crazing.
