LOT 1618

A pair of English Staffordshire porcelain jars and covers, possibly Coalport, mid-19th century, of hexagonal tapering form, painted with flowers on a blue ground with gilt scale decoration, flanked by gilt fish head handles, unmarked, height 30cm (restoration). Provenance: from the estate of a Sussex gentleman.

Estimate: £150 - £250

Condition Report

Both covers extensively professionally restored.

Both vases have professional restoration to most of the inner neck rim but otherwise both bodies are generally in good condition with minimal rubbing to the gilding on the high points of the handles. Both have typical fine crazing to the glaze.
