

British and Continental Ceramics / Thu, 24th September 2026 / Lot 1679

LOT 1679

A Continental porcelain dish surmounted by a monkey, probably Plaue, first half 20th century, the dish of pinched rectangular shape, the monkey perched at one end, blue printed and painted marks to base with impressed numerals '505', length 18.5cm, together with six pottery and porcelain animal models, including a Winstanley Siamese cat, height 17cm, a Copenhagen monkey designed by Knud Kyhn, covered in a cracked cream glaze, height 14cm, a similar model of a duck and a Rosenthal group of two geese, and a pair of Limoges vases printed with flowers, height 13cm (minor faults).

Estimate: £100 - £150

Condition Report

Monkey dish - rattles when inverted but otherwise in good condition overall with no cracks, chips or restoration.

Lying cat small chips/nicks to tip of right ear.

Lying dog - manufacturer's firing blemish to glaze on tip of left ear.

Cracked glaze duck - the crackle glaze is all over but there is a strong and noticeable hairline amidst the glaze running down the duck's back and another down its front.

Otherwise items in the Lot are in good condition overall with no damage or repairs.

Created: Mon, 21st September 2026 12:12