Condition Report

The service is too extensive to go through with a fine tooth comb, but I would suggest on the whole it is not in terrible condition at all.

The wear is incredibly minimal and most items seem to be in fundamentally good order with no significant damage or repairs.

Please note the tree and well is riveted - not really visible from the front, and the largest platter is badly cracked - again not really visible from the front.

Other platters all ok.

Tureens and serving items all generally in good condition.

Comport and two low stands good.

Most plates good, some with some crazing.
