LOT 1210

An early 19th century French ormolu and brown patinated bronze mantel clock with eight day movement striking on a bell via an outside countwheel with silk suspension, the engine turned dial with black Roman numerals, the rectangular case surmounted with the bust of Athena above applied trophies of war, on a rectangular base and turned feet, height 47cm, with pendulum. Provenance: from the estate of a Sussex gentleman.

Estimate: £400 - £600

Condition Report

1210. The clock is in generally good cosmetic condition. Typical light surface scratches and wear with more pronounced wear to gilt on the front of the base.

The movement appears to be in good order, but the silk suspension is not in place properly so it is not currently running. Movement winds smoothly and the strike mechanism strikes on the hour and half hour as it should.
