LOT 1200

An early Victorian rosewood cased four glass library mantel clock, the brass twin fusee movement with platform escapement, striking hours on a gong with pull repeat mechanism, the backplate signed 'Barraud & Lund, Cornhill London' and numbered '1747', the engine turned matt dial with similarly signed gilt chapter ring and black Roman hour numerals, the rectangular case with brass hinged carrying handle above bevelled glass panels, on an ogee moulded cushion and plinth base with brass bun feet, height including handle 27.5cm, with winding key and case key. Note: Barraud & Lund was founded by the renowned chronometer maker Paul Philip Barraud at Cornhill, London in about 1795. It became Barraud & Lund when John Richard Lund became a partner in 1838. The business closed in 1929.

Estimate: £500 - £800

Condition Report

1200. Generally good condition, some sunlight fading to case. Typical light surface scratches and wear. Minor chip to left hand bottom corner of glazed front door. Few minor nicks to veneers, but no significant damage or repairs.

Handle in good order.

Typical wear to gilt.

All glass panels are good except for one very small chip to side panel.

Gilt dial with some typical scratches and wear, more pronounced to numerals at 3, 4, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock.

Both trains of movement wind smoothly, strike mechanism works well, pull repeat also working as it should and it is currently running well, but please be aware we give no guarantees to working order or reliability of any clock or watch.
